Descripton of accommodation

This detached cottage features a spacious central living area with an open visible roof truss providing an unobstructed view of the surrounding natural beauty and the private garden in every direction. To the south, you will find a covered veranda, which can either be fully opened or – thanks to glass sliding doors - used as a weatherproof area. The kitchen, with a view of the garden and an adjacent pantry, is fully equipped and comes with an espresso machine to welcome you in the morning. The cozy bedroom with a large double bed and an adjoining walk-in closet also offers a view of the green surroundings of the building and is connected to the stylish bathroom.

All rooms not only provide generous outdoor access but also the possibility to close the blinds throughout the house. The entire building is warmed by a central underfloor heating unit and there is also a tiled stove with a viewing window for cozy moments in the living area as well as an open fireplace in the covered veranda. Additionally, one to two parking spaces are available in front of the house and a bicycle is waiting for an outing in a small annex. The private garden and an access to the adjacent river “Königsseeache”, which offers opportunities for walking and refreshing, are highlights not only for dog owners but also for everyone else with a penchant for open-air activities.
